EVANSVILLE MUSEUM OF ARTS, HISTORY & SCIENCE RECEIVE FUNDING FROM VANDERBURGH COUNTY

Vanderburgh County Commissioners Cheryl Musgrave and Ben Shoulders presented Evansville Museum staff a ceremonial check for $201,667.00 in American Rescue Plan Act funding. Proposed by Musgrave, Shoulders, and Commissioner Jeff Hatfield, the funding was approved by the Vanderburgh County Council in 2022.

“The Museum’s Board of Trustees, staff, and volunteers express our sincere gratitude to Vanderburgh County officials for this important financial support. The funding will allow the Museum to expand our operating hours in both 2023 and 2024 as we continue to recover from losses sustained due to the COVID-19 pandemic,” stated Museum Executive Director Mary Bower.

About the Museum

The Evansville Museum of Arts, History and Science is one of Southwestern Indiana’s most respected cultural institutions. The Museum maintains a permanent collection of more than 40,000 objects, including fine art, decorative arts, historic documents and photographs, and anthropological artifacts. Also on the Museum’s campus is the Evansville Museum Transportation Center, featuring Southern Indiana transportation artifacts from the late-19th through the mid-20th centuries. The Museum’s Koch Immersive Theater & Planetarium offers programs in astronomy and full-dome projection science films for all ages.
